ECO CHURCH In 2012 three easily understood figures were publicised: • 2°C was then a universally agreed target for the increase in global temperature (reduced to 1.5°C in 2015). • 585 gigatons of carbon could be burnt to stay within that envelope. • 2,795 gigatons was the total amount of reserves of CO2 the fossil fuel industry had then already on their books - five times the amount of oil and gas we could safely use. The total figure of the industry's reserves has now been multiplied by 10. (The Independent 5 August 2023.)
